

COLLIS INTERROGATED

Regarding the Pacific Railroad Debts.

EVANES -MORGAN'S QUESTIONS

The Road Made Money During the Ten Years It Was Without Competition.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—After a vacation of two weeks the senate committee on Pacific railroads today resumed consideration of the Pacific railway debt question. Huntington was present but Senator Morgan was absent at the beginning of the hearing. John R. Moore, a representative of the junior bondholders, was permitted to file a brief in opposition to the plans heretofore offered for the reorganization of the Pacific roads. He advocated a consolidation of the Union Pacific and Central Pacific assessments on subordinate interests for a cash payment of the first and second mortgages, and for the management by the government of the operations of a foreclosure and reorganization of these properties.

When Morgan appeared a linguistic contest between himself and Huntington began. Huntington, when asked as to his objections to the Patterson report, replied that he objected to it as a whole. He admitted that he had been before the commission, but contended that the commission had certain theories to carry out and did not pay much attention to his statements. "I know," said he, "all about the building of the Central Pacific."

"It is not so much about the building of the road," replied Morgan, "we want to know as to about what was made out of it."

"We did not," responded Huntington, "make any more than we were allowed to make under the statutes. Continuing as to the division of the proceeds, he said he could divide what two were interested in the middle."

Morgan: "Can you do that when you are on one side and the people on the other?"

Huntington: "I can."

Morgan: "I am going to give you a chance before we get through."

Referring to the construction of the Southern Pacific to Yuma, Arizona, Huntington said the Colton was interested in that transaction and he (Huntington) had nothing to do with the disposal of his estate.

"Did you not," asked Morgan, "buy Mr. Colton's house in San Francisco?"

"And did you not find Colton's papers in the house?"

"I found wall paper there,"

"That did not find private papers there and burn them?"

"If you charge me with that I will answer."

"He is charged by men who have written as good as I can."

"Then they thought they were mean."

Huntington then asserted with much emphasis that he neither found any of Colton's papers in the house nor destroyed them.

Huntington was examined as to his partnership with Mark Hopkins in the hardware business in San Francisco.

He declared that the hardware business was in no way connected with his partnership with the railroad business. The firm, he said, loaned money to the railroad, also bought railroad securities which were divided between them as individuals. He was not a partner in the hardware business which he had with Mark Hopkins, but that was a separate business.

Mr. Morgan then asked him to give details of business transactions of thirty-five years ago. There had been no general settlement of his and Hopkins' accounts with the railroad, but Mrs. Hopkins had gone on as a representative of her husband's interests in the railroad.

Mr. Huntington said in reply to questions that he had considered the matter outside of that involved in the hardware business which he put into the construction of the Central Pacific. He could not, however, remember how much money he had paid out for the construction. Still he was confident the amount was considerable. He had thought, he thought, about 2000 shares of the stock at the rate of $100 per share in the road reached New Orleans. He also put money into the Central and Finance Company, by which the road was continued.

More than $5,000,000 had been put into the company by himself and his partners, but much of the money had been borrowed, some of it on government bonds. He resented with some show of indignation a question tending to show that it was the government and not the company that had constructed the road, saying that the company, with resources legitimately placed at their command, had constructed it. He added that the company had built thirteen miles of road without any government assistance.

Mr. Morgan complained in this connection that Mr. Huntington was too much inclined to give opinions and not facts, but Mr. Huntington contended that he was giving all the facts he had. He said that 74 miles of the road had been built in seven years; that $25,000,000 in bonds had been received from the government; that first mortgage bonds were issued for $25,000,000 more, and that there was $50,000,000 worth of stock. He said he would not do this work again for twice the amount received.

Taking up the report of the Patterson commission, Mr. Huntington said that part of the road west of Ogden from Bonneville table to Promontory mountain had cost $87,000 per mile, whereas the commission had put the price at $40,000. He gave this as an illustration of the inaccuracy of the commission's report. This part of the road had been built by the Union Pacific and not purchased by the Central Pacific for the purpose of getting into the Salt Lake valley.

Mr. Huntington said the road paid well for the first ten years and that Atchison and Northern Pacific had come in as competitors.

Mr. Morgan asked why the dividends had not been paid into a sinking fund and used in paying the government and first mortgage debt, to which Mr. Huntington replied that it might have been done "except for the novelty of it."

"Such things are never done," he said, "the stock was titled to the individual. Furthermore, the government had interfered with the purpose to do this through the Thurman act."

Mr. Huntington said he could not remember how much money he had received from the first mortgage bonds, but he did not think that the amount was large. He thought the dividends had never exceeded 10 per cent. It appeared upon the report that Mr. Huntington obtained his dividends principally through the Finance and Contract Company. He admitted that this company had used a part of its assets in building other roads,

THE POLICY OF SPAIN

As to Cuba and the Action of Congress.

THE SITUATION A DELICATE ONE

Will Not Admit That the Slightest Ground Exists for Recognition of Insurgents.

New York, March 6.—The World will print tomorrow the following authentic statement of the policy of Spain as to Cuba and congress from Prime Minister Canovas. It is accompanied by a personal message to Joseph Pulitzer from the president of the council of state at Madrid, authorizing its publication. The statement is as follows:

Madrid, March 6.—"We have as yet no official notification of the intentions of the American government and cannot therefore take cognizance of or protest by note against any of the proceedings of the senate and house of representatives of the United States. We have taken no official notice whatever of the proceedings of congress in Washington during the past week."

"Nor have we sounded the European powers or courts regarding their support in any form. All we have done is to submit to the American government, and to Minister Taylor that we have endeavored to enforce respect for the American legation and consulates, representing as sternly the disturbances that we have ordered the Madrid, Granada, Valencia and other universities closed and will close all universities, schools and establishments whose students dare to make demonstrations hostile to the United States. We will send to prison and prompt trial all authors and promoters of such disturbances. We believe they are prompted by the advanced Republicans."

"Nothing will be omitted on our side to show our desire to preserve cordial relations with America. I am convinced that we possess sufficient means to quell any hostile demonstration. The government of Spain regards and has made all the amendments possible for the legislation already made of the indignation which the speeches at Washington naturally excited among the over-loyal people of Spain."

"The situation now is one of extreme delicacy. Indeed, I cannot define how far it is possible for the government of Spain to go in order to maintain the mediation of a foreign power, however honorable and disinterested it may be, without incurring the grave risk of being accused of submitting to outside interference, pressure and control in the midst of a civil war. The United States is a great power and until they recognize the object and encourage the aims of the insurgents in Cuba, they are not enemies of Spain. After the recognition of the insurgents in Cuba by the United States it would be impossible for the government of Spain to accept the good offices of President Cleveland, or to permit any interference with the will of the Spaniards."

"Nevertheless, I still hope some way will be found by the President to avoid alienating the friendly relations with the United States which Spain has this winter given to the world."

"I am fully alive to the significance and the possible consequences of the vote of the United States congress to the rebels as well as to Spain in her relations with the United States, and especially in connection with the right of search on the high seas, and in the matter of privateers and filibustering expeditions."

"I am only now and seemingly warlike preparations yet made by Spain are made simply with a view to equip a fleet of war ships and transatlantic vessels to chase filibusters and guard the coast of Cuba. This is the whole object in view. General Weyler having said he had enough troops, only the naval forces will be sent to Cuba until full, and no naval demonstration is contemplated."

"The elections will not interfere with the action of the government as it is anxious to conduct them in a tolerant spirit for all parties, fair representation being accorded to the various political contingencies. Besides in every imperial and international question the Spaniards have always shown a patriotic spirit."

"The misapprehension concerning General Weyler's character and methods as a soldier originated in a misstatement of facts. Before he left for Cuba the last time, I saw and spoke to him and he expressed his views. He is a simple soldier in the requirements of this war, in which the insurgents have not only at defiance the laws of civilized warfare, but have also violated the laws of humanity. He is simply a soldier in the requirements of this war, in which the insurgents have not only at defiance the laws of civilized warfare, but have also violated the laws of humanity."

"The claim of Venezuela that her territory extends to the Essequibo is based on contentions in no wise supported by facts and is not justified on any reasonable ground."

"The foregoing text establishes Great Britain in her strict right to be entitled to the territory extending to Essequibo, Venezuela's claim of the Essequibo, Guyana, Uruguay, Paraguay, Brazil and Bolivia."

"The blue book contains nine maps, an official chart of the West India Company, dated 1855; Balboa's map of Guiana, dated 1640; the official map of the English committee on trade and plantations, dated 1783; Dr. Arvillan's map of America Meridional, dated 1820; Thompson's chart of the coast of Guiana, dated 1788; an inset of Bonchevalier's map of the colony of Essequibo and Demerara, dated 1795; and Depou's chart of the Capitainerie Generale de Guyane, dated 1801."

"The maps were prepared in order to illustrate the various boundary lines referred to in the correspondence."

ITALIANS SURROUNDED

Anxiety for the Garrison at Adigrat.

A POLICY OF PEACE ADVOCATED

The Work of Dispatching Troops to Massowah Being Pushed With Vigor.

Rome, March 6.—The Papino Romano this morning refers to the fact that considerable anxiety is felt for the safety of the Italian garrison at Adigrat. The troops there have only three days' supply of provisions and are surrounded by the Shoa army. Unless promptly relieved, Adigrat must fall and a further massacre of Italians follow.

A group of members of the right party passed a resolution denouncing the complete abandonment of Erythraea, as its retention would involve a waste of money and men.

The work of dispatching reinforcements to Massowah is being pushed with praiseworthy vigor. On board the chartered transports gangs of men relieve each other so that the falling out of these vessels is a continuous day and night. The army of reserve men of the class of 1872, just called to the colors, will, as soon as equipped, relieve the men now doing garrison duty, and the soldiers thus rendered available for active service will be shipped to Africa as rapidly as possible, unless the incoming military makes a complete change in the colonial policy of the country.

It is determined to make peace at any price with the Abyssinians. Among the military men there is a strong sentiment in favor of pushing the campaign in Africa to the point where it is necessary to call out all the army reserves and send 50,000 additional troops to Abyssinia. But the sober-minded representatives of the business men of the country are in sympathy with those who favor a complete change in the colonial policy of Italy.

In the meantime the financial situation is alarming to all who are conversant with it. It is hoped, may have the effect of bringing about a policy of reconciliation and economy.

The students of Pisa invaded the railroad station here last evening, and the Italian garrison at Adigrat, which was to be transferred to Naples for shipment to Africa. They marched to the depot, shouting "Down with the King," "Death to the Emperor," etc. A strong force of police was sent to the station and the students were dispersed.

A projected demonstration at the capital (Rome) is expected to be insignificant. The few speeches were made by radical leaders. The police prevented any from obtaining an entrance at the capital.

Diagrams from Massowah to the Italian papers show that the Italians fought bravely at Adowa, and obeyed orders wherever they were well led. But they were badly organized, and there was no direct control over the distribution of the forces. General Arimondi and Colonel Lancia, with 300 white soldiers, are now reported to be prisoners in the hands of the Shoa.

It is reported that the Italian force now surrounded by the Derwishes. According to the Italian Militia the Italian losses amounted to 4,500, of which 4,000 belong to General Arimondi's column. It is also reported that the Italian force at Adowa is in a very bad state. The only thing known of Adowa is that he fell wounded in the attack.

The Optimist states that General Baldissoni has expressed the opinion that the situation is very serious and that he can do nothing to relieve Adigrat. He wants means to strengthen the position of Asmara.

The government has replied leaving him liberty of action, but begging him not to engage the enemy except in case of extreme necessity.

London, March 6.—A special dispatch from Rome says: "Hannibal has ordered Signor Franzini to leave the capital, and to go to the front. Signor Franzini believes it is best to conclude an honorable peace with the Abyssinians and abandon the country."

LOVED TOO WELL.
Objection to Their Marriage More Than They Could Bear.

Oakland, March 6.—Murder and suicide ended the love affair today between Edward Hack, a young barber, and Diana Puchco in a lodging house at 511 Sixth street. An unrelenting father had forbidden his son to wed the girl and the death of the love sick couple was the culmination of the objections.

William Danvers, proprietor of the rooming house, discovered the bodies in a room this evening at 7 o'clock. His attention had been called to the fact that the door had been locked all day and he was at last obliged to open it.

The bodies were lying on a bed, side by side, were the half-clad bodies of the man and woman. Further examination disclosed a burnt bullet hole in the left side of each body exactly where the fatal wound was made.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S VETO

Grand Jurors' Claims Are Scaled Down.

The Board of Supervisors decline to allow members of the late grand jury pay for the last five days of their service on the ground that they were not a legal body during that time.

A new grand jury was drawn January 25th, and the old jury held over until February 1st. District Attorney Snow advised the supervisors not to pay wages for those five days, and the supervisors are acting upon that advice.

John S. Dore's claim was presented yesterday. He was foreman of the jury, and it is presumed that his case will be made the test. The claim was sent to the district attorney's office for approval, or disapproval, and it was returned with the recommendation that he be paid, except that he was not to be paid for the reason that Mr. Dore was not serving on any grand jury then.

It is understood that the members of the grand jury will not let the matter rest at that, and will appeal from the decision of the supervisors to the court.

SUBMITTED ON BRIEFS.
The Suit of the City Against the Canal Company.

The trial of the suit of the city against the Fresno Canal and Irrigation and the Fresno Milling Company for $50,000, was yesterday concluded in Judge Carter's court.

The case was submitted on briefs, the plaintiff to have fifteen days to file the brief, the Canal Company fifteen days, and the Milling Company fifteen days more for its brief. The case will be heard by the city, which will have five days additional for filing the final brief.

A POWERFUL PUMP
BEING PUT UP AT THE CITY WATER WORKS.

It Will Run by Electricity—Power Will Shortly Be Sent Over the Wires.

On April 23 it will have been one year since the incorporation of the San Joaquin Electric Company, and by that time it is expected that the current will be turned on and the wheels will start.

Work is going forward in many places. Perhaps the most important item at present is the electrical machinery which will pump water for the city water works. A new and powerful pump is being put in place. This pump will be operated by electricity and the present pump and engine will be left intact.

The new pump will be kept constantly in motion, although not in use. In case of an accident to any part of the electrical machinery requiring it to shut down, the reserve pump at that time, as works can be kept in motion, and the water can be raised in the boilers. The precaution goes still further. There are two complete engines and boilers, and if one breaks, the other can be called into service. In case the water power should give way—an eventuality within range of possibilities—the pumps are arranged to force water directly into the mains.

At the power house is nearing completion. The waterwheels and dynamos are in place, and they need only adjusting. The sub-station building here is done, and the machinery is being set up.

A large number of arc lamps have arrived, and wagon loads of supplies for wiring and interior work.

A LOST CAUSE.
LEON REBELS ARE READY TO MAKE PEACE.

President Zelaya is Determined They Shall Pay the Expenses of the War.

Copyright, 1896, of the Associated Press. MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 6.—Word received tonight indicates that the Leon rebels have given up their cause.

Rafael A. Gutierrez, president of the republic of Salvador, has telegraphed to President Zelaya of Nicaragua, informing him the Leon rebels want to make terms of peace.

President Zelaya is determined that the only terms of peace he will give are that the Leonists shall pay all the expenses of war, preparations for which have been necessitated by this revolt; shall give up all their arms and that their leader shall be tried by court martial.

President Zelaya goes from here to Nicaragua tomorrow, the scene of the first revolt and the scene of the first battle. He will view the ruins of the city and will confer with the army officers who have led so effective a campaign against the insurgents.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—The next annual convention of the A. P. A. will be held in Stockton. This was decided at the fourth day's session after a hard struggle among the delegates, representing all quarters of the state.

The convention will be held at the Hotel de Los Angeles. Against it was arrayed the supporters of San Francisco, Oakland and Stockton. It was only when those favoring the three cities combined to insist on the claim of the hotel that the cause of Los Angeles was lost.

REV. BROWN'S VERSION

HOW MRS. DAVIDSON WORKED THE BLACKMAIL SCHEME.

He Innocently Accomplished Her in Public Places at Her Request.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—The Rev. C. O. Brown resumed his testimony in his own defense before the Congressional committee today. He admitted that he had exchanged letters with Miss Overman while the latter was absent in Tacoma. The letters were produced, and Dr. Brown explained that Miss Overman had sent to her home in Tacoma for the letters. All of the letters were pro-se epistles concerning matters in the church and books which Miss Overman was reading.

"A sweet love letter, is it not?" suggested Dr. Brown when the first of the letters was read. He referred to his connection with Mrs. Davidson, recounting how she had waited for him after a prayer meeting when Mrs. Brown was absent, and asking him to walk towards home with her.

Mrs. Davidson asked him if he did not miss Miss Overman, and he had innocently replied that he had. He denied that he said Miss Overman was his best friend, but he said that he had loved her, and that he had loved her for a long time. He said that he had loved her for a long time, and that he had loved her for a long time.

He said that Mrs. Davidson, on various occasions, had asked him to see people and had asked him to see her through the Young Men's Christian Association building. She wished to meet the general secretary of the association, and he had waited for that officer, Dr. Brown said, and Mrs. Davidson had sat a few minutes in the office of the assistant secretary.

Dr. Brown said these interviews and visits were all a part of Mrs. Davidson's scheme of blackmail, to which he innocently fell. Mrs. Davidson sought to have him seen with her in such places as would make it possible for her to expose his writings to what she had described as consultations respecting Miss Overman's revelations regarding his alleged liaison with Miss Overman.

Continuing, Dr. Brown said that he had come to his office in the church and had asked him to lend her a little money. He loaned her at that time $20, later $40, and again $40.

Is the Wall of the Nerves for Food.

People with Weak, Flabby Nerves are the Ones who Suffer. They may be Relieved by Building up their Nerves with a Nourishing Nerve Food.

An Interesting Interview with a Prominent Physician and a Case in Point Cited.

From the Journal, Knoxville, Mo.

"What is this modern disease called 'nervousness'?"

"If this question had been asked a physician in his grandfather's time, he could not have answered it. It is a new disease, of modern origin, and is a product of our American civilization." Stated in brief, American civilization is a complete collapse of the nervous system. It is brought about by overwork, worry or disease, and the patient can only be cured by rest and a proper feeding of the nerves.
